ComReg welcomes eircom publication of PPC prices

ComReg today welcomed the publication of prices by eircom for a new product known as Partial Private Circuits (PPCs). This is a wholesale product which is now available to other telecommunications operators.

This will allow these operators to provide point to point data and voice services (usually known as leased lines) to their customers by combining a Partial Private Circuit with elements of their own infrastructure. Partial Private Circuits are an alternative product to eircom's existing Wholesale Leased Line offering.

ComReg said this development should contribute to greater competition in the leased line market in Ireland.

ComReg has published an information notice ComReg 03/77 on this matter and it can be found on our website: www.comreg.ie
